

コンベンションエリアからは じまる誰もが訪れたいくなる都市

The West Coast area, where the Okinawa Convention Center is located, the largest MICE complex in the prefecture, has become an area of focus with the opening of the Urasoe North Road on the Okinawa West Coast Highway in March 2008. This road provides smooth access from the wide-area transportation hubs such as Naha Airport and Naha Port.

In addition, the west coast area is home to a baseball stadium where the Yokohama DeNA Bay Stars spring training camp is held. Multipurpose sports fields and plazas, gymnasiums, outdoor theaters, beaches, and marinas, form one of the best convention areas in the prefecture and serves as a main venue for various events.

Furthermore, large resort hotels and commercial facilities are opening one after another in the surrounding area with sea front property resorts. You can enjoy the Churaumi (beautiful sea in Okinawan dialect) of Ginowan, which is home to coral reefs and colorful tropical fish unique to Okinawa. Ginowan continues its development as an urban resort area.

We will continue to promote further events and support, as well as disseminate information on the city's tourism resources. We aim to create a city that attracts even more visitors.
